

Social systems' objective structures and actors' subjective agency 1

		social systems		actors
		functions	properties	enactments		collective/ individual values
core social system	culture	self- production	social compatibility	action: self- actual- isation	self- fulfilment	equality/ recognition
	politics				self- determi- nation	liberty/ empowerment
	eco- nomy				self- reliance (sub- sistence)	solidarity, subsidiarity/ security, safety

Social systems' objective structures and actors' subjective agency 2

---

	social systems		actors
	functions	properties	enactments	collective/ individual values
core social system	self-production	social compatibility	action: self-actualisation	justice/ self-worth (dignity)
basic eco-(social) system	self-maintenance	ecological compatibility	work: self-preservation	survivability/ physical well-being
basic techno-((eco-)social) system	self-operation	technological compatibility	activity: self-actuation	thrivability (productivity)/ performative competence

Social systems' objective structures and actors' subjective agency 3

	social systems		actors
	functions	properties	enactments	collective/ individual values
society, humans	re-creation (self-trans- cendence) as social self- organi- sation	cohesion, inclusion (social frictionless- ness) as social unity- through- diversity	self-invention (self-trans- cendence) as self- organisation of the elements of social systems	conviviality (sharing the common good)/ reflexivity (sense of self and togetherness, underpinned by consciousness and conscience)